3 Ministers, 2 Others Die In Collision

Aged Ohio Woman, Daughter Victims In Route 40 Crash

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Two autos collided head-on near Cambridge Wednesday in a flaming crash. Five persons were killed.

The dead included three ministers of the Evangelical United Brethern Church. They were identified as the Rev. Lorin Stine, 53, of Dayton; the Rev. Edward H. Hammon, 54, of (11 Baltimore St.) Middletown, and the Rev. John W. Bench, 45, of Germantown.

The three ministers were returning from a church conference at Harrisburg, Pa.

Killed in the other car were Mrs. Nannie Pence, 70, of Waynesfield and her daughter Mrs. Lucine Shaner, 46, of New Hampshire. Both towns are in Auglaize County. The patrol said Mrs. Shaner was driving.

The two autos collided on a slight curve in U. S. 40 about one mile east of here. Both autos were demolished.

The patrol said the Rev. Hammon was driving the ministers' auto. All the occupants were either thrown clear by the impact or were removed by passers-by.

The ministers' auto was westbound and the Shaner auto was east-bound, the patrol said.

They said apparently the ministers' car had crossed the center line.

The Rev. Mr. Stine was pastor of the Fairview EUB Church in Dayton and a member of the EUB's Board of Christian Education and the Commission on Evangelism of the Ohio-Miami Conference of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Hammon was pastor of the First EUB Church of Middletown. The Rev. Mr. Bench had been pastor at the Germantown EUB Church.

One Of Crash Dead Former County Pastor

The Rev. John W. Bench, one of five killed in the Route 40 crash at Cambridge, was a former pastor of the Salem-Homeworth EUB charge before going to the Germantown church seven years ago.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Vera Bench, a daughter, Miss Phyllis Bench, student at Otterbein College, and two sons. He was a pastor 22 years.

Reds Sentence Priest

BERLIN (AP) — An East German court has sentenced a Catholic priest, Kaplan Hugo Hermes, to 16 months imprisonment on charges of possessing West German books.

Morgan Park Dedication To Be Sunday

Dedication of a new state historical park at the site of the 1863 surrender of Confederate Gen. John H. Morgan and his raiders will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the park on Route 518 west of West Point.

Harold Barth, secretary of the East Liverpool Historical Society, will explain how the present granite monument was erected in 1910.

Mrs. John Steffen, Beaver Local teacher, will outline the history of the raid of the Morgan unit through Indiana and Ohio.

The Lisbon High School band will play, and State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. Tom Hammerton of the Lisbon Methodist Church will give the invocation.

John Herman, past district American Legion commander, will present a memorial degree team commemorating the dead of past wars. The presentation of colors will be made by the State Highway Department.

Robert Stockdale, representing Gov. C. William O'Neill, the State Highway Department and the State Historical Society, will be chief speaker.

Rep. Wetzel said a crowd is expected to attend the event at the surrender site, about two miles west of West Point near the West Beaver Church.

Personal Income Hit New High In September

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income climbed to a new record last month. Much of the increase was in the durable goods industries that had been hard hit in the recession.

The Commerce Department reported that the income total in September reached an annual rate of 375½ billion dollars—up 1½ billions from August and up about 11 billions from the recession low last February.

It was the seventh straight month in which personal income had risen and the third straight month in which it set a new mark.

The figures given out by the Commerce Department were adjusted for seasonal factors.

Steel Industry Urged To Build Hospitals

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, wants the steel industry to build hospitals for employes with money management contributes toward pensions.

McDonald said this proposal will be one of the major items when negotiations start next spring for a new contract. The present three-year contract expires July 1.

The union president disclosed his intentions at a news conference Wednesday.

Board Hikes Margin For Stock Credit

Stiffest Restraints In Nearly 12 Years Hit At Speculation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board today put into effect the stiffest stock market credit restraints in nearly 12 years. The board's purpose: to discourage speculation with borrowed money.

The board announced plans Wednesday to increase to 90 per cent the margin, or minimum down payment, required on purchases of stocks. The minimum margin had been 70 per cent since Aug. 5, when it was raised from 50 per cent.

The latest action means investors henceforth must put up at least $90 in cash for every $100 of stock they buy. It does not have any retroactive effect on stocks bought when margins were lower.

Only once before have margins been this high—when they were 100 per cent in the first year after World War II.

Wall Street had been expecting an increase and some stock analysts said they believed the action had been discounted in advance. The market reached an all-time high Monday but prices fell in heavy trading Tuesday and Wednesday.

When the reserve board raises margins, the aim is to prevent excessive use of credit in the stock market. If too much borrowed money moves into the market, less is available for use by borrowers in other sectors of the economy.

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock exchange, said credit on that exchange totals $3,100,000,000. He said this is only 1.3 per cent of the total market value of the stocks.

Funston said stock market credit has not kept pace with increases in stock prices or with nongovernment credit in the rest of the economy.

A reserve board spokesman said loans by brokers and banks for purchasing stocks totaled $4,300,000,000 at the end of September. He said this was the largest amount since this type of statistic was first collected during the 1930s.

Brokers' loans had increased 20 per cent this year and bank loans for stock purchases are up 8 per cent, he said.

Invasion Chief Freed

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan's two-man revolutionary government today freed Chaudhary Ghulam Abbas, leader of the attempted invasion of Indian Kashmir last June by an unarmed "liberation" movement. Several other leaders also were released.

Finlay 'Guilty' In Tax Charge

$50 Fine Suspended If Report Is Filed

Larry A. Finlay, 709 Sophia St., was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court after Judge George L. Brokaw convicted him on a charge of failing to file an estimated city income tax declaration before the deadline July 15.

Judge Brokaw told Finlay the fine will be suspended if he files the estimate within 10 days with the income tax office at City Hall.

Finlay reiterated a not guilty plea when his case started at 10:10 this morning. Then the court granted Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper's request for a continuance of 15 minutes to arrange appearance of witnesses. Finlay was not represented by counsel. The hearing ended about 11:15.

The charge against him was filed Oct. 2 by Frank Blakeley, supervisor of the city tax office. Haled into court two days later on a summons, Finlay entered a not guilty plea and asked a continuance to obtain counsel and prepare his defense.

The estimates are required of persons who have income not subject to withholding at the source. Finlay operates a neighborhood grocery on Minerva St. It was the first time the city went into court to charge a prospective taxpayer with violation of the ordinance.

Another charge was filed Monday. Mrs. Marie Nentwick, operator of a Pleasant Heights nursing home, is due for arraignment Saturday morning before Judge Brokaw. She also is accused of failure to file an estimate of 1958 income.

Attend Rites For Pope

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's Roman Catholic church was crowded today for a special Requiem Mass for Pope Pius XII. The Mass was celebrated for the benefit of diplomats from nations which maintain relations with the Vatican, but many Soviet Catholics also attended.

President Bourguiba Defiant

Tunisia Swings To West In Sharp Blast At U.A.R.

Diplomatic Ties Cut Off With Nasser

Accuses Egyptians Of Collaboration In Assassination Bid

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba defiantly threw in his lot with the West today in a bitter attack on the United Arab Republic. He broke diplomatic relations with the U.A.R. Wednesday.

"Yes, I am Western," Bourguiba declared in a speech to the Tunisian Constituent Assembly explaining his move, "and I will remain so."

The president of the young North African republic did not mention President Nasser by name, but he ripped into Nasser policies. Bourguiba bluntly said the Egyptians had collaborated in an assassination plot against him.

"The primary enemy, one has the habit of saying, is Israel," Bourguiba said. "However, why is it that this state (Israel) is quiet while the Arabs are killing one another."

Bourguiba professed confidence in the outcome of this test of strength between him and Nasser, strong man of the U.A.R., whose ambition is a united Arab world under his leadership.

He said he felt the Arab League some day would be reconstituted on more solid and sincere foundations.

Tunisia, a new member of the league, touched off the current crisis between the two Arab countries in Cairo Saturday. The Tunisian delegation accused the U.A.R. of trying to dominate the league. The U.A.R. walked out of the meeting.

Bourguiba again accused the U.A.R. of sheltering and giving active aid to Salah ben Youssef, Bourguiba's former political ally who fled Tunis for exile in Cairo where he preaches the policies of Nasser.

Rightists Call Off Strike In Algeria Move

Cancellation Seen DeGaulle Victory In Territory Policies

ALGIERS (AP)—French rightists today called off a scheduled general strike to protest Premier Charles de Gaulle's policies in Algeria.

The cancellation was a victory for De Gaulle's policies. Organized opposition to De Gaulle appeared to be falling away. The cancellation was announced by the badly divided Public Safety Committee after Gen. Raoul Salan, De Gaulle's personal deputy in Algeria and the military and civilian ruler of the territory, had called in the committee leaders.

A Public Safety Committee communique calling off the general strike did not mention a mass protest demonstration also called for the day. Since the communique asked everyone to go about his work normally, this appeared to rule out the demonstration.

The committee said it has full confidence in the army and that Salan this morning had explained the new orders from De Gaulle.

Leading Moslem members of the committee joined the army leadership and the government in opposing the strike and demonstration. Belief was widespread in Algiers that De Gaulle would triumph and cement his control of the territory.

A stormy session of the central Public Safety Committee, attended at the end by only 25 of the 64 members, decided to go ahead with the defiance of De Gaulle.

"We are going until the end," declared Pierre la Gaillarde, bearded former paratroop lieutenant who heads militant local student organizations.

A number of committee members walked out after Gen. Raoul Salan, supreme civilian and military commander in Algeria, in a radio appeal knuckled under to De Gaulle and said he could not "accept" the strike and demonstration.

$13,800 Lowest Bid To Paint Chester Span

George Atsalis of Pittsburgh submitted the apparent low bid of $13,800 for painting the East Liverpool-Chester Bridge, the State Highway Department at Columbus reported.

The department estimate was $19,650. Bids were opened Tuesday. The project is to be completed by Aug. 1, 1959.

Nixon Praises X15

U.S. Shows Plane For Space Flight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Air Force, the Navy and the new civilian space agency have proudly trundled the forerunner of tomorrow's space vehicle out into public view.

Vice President Nixon called the new rocket-powered X15 a "major step in man's greatest adventure in exploration beyond our world—the first and logical step in space exploration."

"With the X15 following the magnificent achievement of the Pioneer (moon-rocket satellite), Americans can proudly say that the United States has recaptured the lead, that we have moved into first place in the race to outer space," Nixon said Wednesday at rollout ceremony for new space probe.

"We are on the threashold of even more exciting adventures into space, of which X15 is but one manifestation," he said.

"X15 is perhaps most exciting because of the fact that it is designed to carry man into space for the first time."

The X15 is long, low and sleek, with stubby wings astern and tiny cockpit perched far forward, a protuberance so slight that some uninformed observers speculated that this must be a pilotless craft.

It's painted jet black, presumably in connection with radiation studies to be made on coasting flights more than 100 miles above earth. It's designed to fly more than 3,600 miles an hour.

Harrison Storms, chief engineer of North American's Los Angeles division, which built the plane, put it this way: the X15 can fly three times as fast as the fastest jet fighters, twice as fast as a high-speed rifle bullet, and can "easily exceed a world altitude record by many times."

The X15 will be hauled by truck within a few days to Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., 125 miles northeast of here, for the start of a test program.

The initial flight tentatively has been scheduled for early February, test pilot Scott Crossfield told reporters. However, Crossfield may make the first flight in January or, with exceptional luck, in December.

For its space probing, the X15 will be carried aloft under a B52 jet bomber and launched over the Wendover, Utah, area.

In full-scale flights its rocket engine will burn for 90 seconds, hurtling the craft into a ballistic flight path. Empty of fuel, X15 will arc 460 miles to Edwards and a deadstick landing on steel skids it uses in place of wheels.

"It's a good, simple plane, easy to fly, and I'm looking forward to trying it out," Crossfield said.

'Crash Program' Asked

Community Fund Drive Exceeds Half-Way Mark

The Community Fund drive for $83,173 to help finance the operation of six participating agencies passed the half - way mark today, Standley T. Hilbert, general chairman, announced.

Contributions have been received from only about 40 per cent of the industrial and commercial prospects, and only one - fourth of the 10,000 employes in the East Liverpool - Chester - Newell-Wellsville area have been solicited, he said.

Calling for "a crash program" to solicit the remaining prospects, Hilbert said: "It's clear at the rate we are going that we will go well over the top if we can round up the contributions or pledge cards that are outstanding.".

The chairman praised the work of the Advance Gifts Division, headed by Robert E. Boyce, which turned in $25,717 from 55 prospects. Some 80 more prospects remain to be contacted, he said.

Also singled out for praise were Mrs. Russell H. Smith and the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, co-chairmen of the professional section of the Special Gifts Division.

A total of $1,927 was contributed in 61 gifts from doctors, dentists, attorneys and other professional men, and solicitation still must be completed among more

Special Police Press Harder On Bombings

Atlanta Staff Goes Into Seclusion; FBI Seen Near Solution

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A special police staff went into seclusion as they pressed harder than ever today for a solution to the dynamite explosion which shattered a large portion of a Jewish temple.

Reliable sources said it was understood the FBI expected to solve the case today. N. R. Johnson, in charge of the FBI office here, declined comment.

The blast before dawn Sunday was the first anti-Semitic violence in Atlanta but the fourth in the South this year. It caused $200,000 damage to The Temple.

The police staff directing the investigation here moved to an undisclosed site late Wednesday. Capt. J. L. Moseley said requests for information from news media had reached the point where they were interfering with the investigation.

Two more bomb threats were made Wednesday night by telephone but nothing came of either. Radio-TV stations WSB and WSB-TV received a call from a man who said the Atlanta Journal-Constitution building would be bombed next. Extra policemen have been on duty at the building since a similar threat was made Sunday night. WSB and WSB-TV, which is owned by the newspapers, said it received a second call later, apparently from the same man, who said the station also would be blown up.

Five persons being held by the police were questioned by the FBI. Police said a search of the residences of two of the men turned up two letters, one of which threatened the Atlanta Jewish community. The other contained hate-mongering correspondence from another state.

Jury Convicts City Man On Obscene Literature

A Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon Wednesday afternoon convicted Richard Curran of East Liverpool R. D. 2 on a charge of possession of obscene literature.

The literature was found in the glove compartment of his car when police were called over a disturbance. Curran did not testify during the one - day trial.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard deferred sentencing pending a motion for a new trial.

All They Need Is Red Meat

It suddenly has crossed the minds of some Americans who hadn't given it much thought before that destruction of schools and churches is evidence of beasts on the prowl that they thought had been caged.

And it has crossed some minds, that those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad. Violence in the United States had been held in check so long that its significance has been overlooked.

Whether the recent explosions in schools and churches were unrelated incidents or part of a master plot to create excitement, fear and hatred, the challenge to the composite composure of U.S. citizens is the same.

Are we able to cope with the beasts that can destroy us? Will we panic and run, or will we stand firm and plan how to undo damage already done and avert further damage?

Will it finally penetrate even the thick heads of rabble-rousers who have been throwing red meat to lions and hyenas that rabble-rousers, themselves, can be turned into red meat?

THERE HAS been no secret, certainly, about the difference between nations like those in the Middle East, where street mobs pull human victims to pieces, and the United States, where mob violence is virtually unknown.

In the Middle East, everything conceivable is done to incite the least disciplined elements of the population to fury and violence.

In the United States, everything conceivable is done to keep the least disciplined elements of the population from practicing violence.

This country hasn't had to apologize for large-scale breakdowns of behavior since the undisciplined seizure of property in the late '30s by sitdown strikers and the running amuck of Kluxers in the mid-'20s.

But it is on the verge of shame if it loses its head over the bombing, dynamitings and flarings of violence that are either being carried on systematically to upset public composure or are related outbursts of disciplinary breakdowns.

IN EITHER CASE, they are a challenge to the people of the United States. Those who try to avert violence are pitted against those who try to stir up violence. The latter have some purpose in mind that can be thwarted only by the former, doing everything they can to restrain the savagery whose release could make America as notorious for mobs as terror-ridden countries elsewhere.

Go Ahead: Everybody's Listening

The chief spokesman for General Motors thinks thrice before he talks, not just twice—and he may think four times when he's talking for the record, as he was this week when he spoke in New York City.

The occasion was the opening of the 1958 showing of General Motors cars. Frederic G. Donner, chairman, and John Gordon, president, were making their first full-spotlight appearance as the dual heads of the world's largest corporation. Mr. Donner was talking.

He was replying to pointed criticism of style extremism by a spokesman for the Ford Motor Co. Obviously, he did not make his statement lightly. Style changes, he said, can be thanked for the position of the auto industry today. Otherwise, the American people would have no incentive to buy new cars. They would drive old cars until they wore out.

The supply of used cars would dry up and disappear. There would be no progress, as it has been known in the auto industry. No one will deny that Mr. Donner has a strong point here and that it will bear discussion. But while he was talking, many Americans were reading the point of view of George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., on the same subject. Mr. Romney, who has harped on the fact that automobiles can grow too big for their own good, has learned to his pleasure that many Americans agree; they bought his corporation's small cars at an impressive clip last year. He has something to talk about, too.

There is something to be said on both sides—as there usually is. Why can't this be acknowledged by the auto industry and the discussion continued on that common-sense note? Some Americans always will demand bigger, flashier cars and expect them to be that way year in and year out. Some Americans, on the other hand, are becoming interested in smaller cars that will provide transportation without planned obsolescence.

One does not have to exclude the other; there's room for both.

Who Carried The Day?

When the White House made it known late last year and early this year that it intended to streamline the Pentagon, cheers went up. For a time they drowned out the jeers of the militarists who did not want to be interfered with and the congressmen who had no thought of yielding any of their jealously guarded power over military affairs.

Most jealously guarded of all, of course, was the power to make appropriations. The merest hint that the Eisenhower administration might seek the right to transfer funds was enough to infuriate Congress. Consequently, this particular right was not sought. The rights that were sought, moreover, were compromised and watered down until at the end no one was particularly excited.

Congress had saved the power of the purse, which was its main objective. As long as its powerful committees can decide how the money for the armed forces is going to be distributed, there will be no danger of surrendering its legislative prerogatives to the executive department.

But the struggle that is built into a government of divided power never ends; it is eternal. Having been turned down on the idea that military appropriations might be transferred during a budget year to meet changing conditions, the White House now has announced that it will not seek any new authority to do this because a study of existing law shows it already has all the authority it needs.

Oddly enough, this is exactly what President Eisenhower said last April 16, when he told Congress in a White House letter that he would seek no authority to transfer appropriations because he already had all the authority he needed. It is puzzling why he should want to say it again at this time, until the calendar is consulted. It is mid-October. The 1960 federal budget is beginning to take shape.

The White House is serving notice in plenty of time that it has no intention of calling off its fight to transfer defense appropriations under authority it already possesses.

The Once Over

The Soviet Ministry of Culture says Russian advertising needs pepping up and suggests taking a few leaves from American techniques. We can picture a conference with a Moscow ad man:

Minister.—Look what America does with headache pills.

Ad Man.—This is up our alley. We can use not only arrows, dotted lines and springs in those TV drawings of the human head, but a Russian hammer and sickle.

Minister.—What about Russian razor blades? We could design one shaped like a sickle.

Ad Man.—Moscow can't adopt a razor blade campaign without adopting bezeball. And we could never use that jingle, "How are you fixed for blades?"

Minister.—No. The natural answer would be, "Ask Zhukov, Molotov and Malenkov." What about a slogan for Russian pens?

Ad Man. Have we a pen that writes under water?

Minister.—Khrushchev has one that writes under rocks and gravel.

Ad Man. — Can any Russian pen write on buttered paper?

Minister.—We are building one that will write on sour cream. Have you thought of any ideas for selling more steel?

Ad Man.—How about "Promise her anything, but give her a Soviet steel pillar"? Or maybe "You can't go wrong if it's a Moscow blast furnace."

Minister.—Not bad. Have you any ideas for putting over vodka in a bigger way?

Ad Man (singing).—"Keep young and fair and debonnaire with vodka, vodka everywhere."

Minister.—Only decadent capitalistic states wish to be debonnaire. How about a vodka boxtop contest?

Ad Man.—Vodka doesn't come in boxes.

Minister.—After two drinks who can be sure?

Senator Hits Labor Law Lag

By Victor Riesel

In a voice dripping with disgust, Sen. John McClellan today told this reporter that he would quit his famous racket-busting committee unless Congress passed some racket-busting law during the next series of probings into the underworld.

Victor Riesel

It was more than the long-distance telephone wire which crackled as the senator talked from his office in Little Rock. McClellan said he and his colleagues had "worked our hearts out" but nothing has happened.

"There simply is no use in doing that if there is no legislation —for we have exposed and we'll continue to expose. We know how to expose and the Congress knows how to legislate, so I'll quit the committee at the end of the next congressional session if there are no laws," the senator said.

"That will be sometime in August 1959. It's absolutely necessary to keep going through this coming session.

"WE'VE STILL GOT some scandals the staff has uncovered. We've enough for hearings through the '59 session. But what's the use of going into '60 if we have no laws passed next year?"

What of the Senate Select Committee's future plans? The senator disclosed that the main hearings he believed the committee would run this year would be probings into four or five cases of "secondary boycotts." This refers to the refusal of a union to handle "hot cargo."

In such instances, one union refuses to work for a firm which is shopping, handling or purchasing products coming from another firm against which there is a strike. Thus, for example, a firm with no labor trouble can get plenty of it if it buys its supplies from a struck company 2,000 miles away.

After these sessions in November, McClellan doesn't think there will be any further hearings until late next January or February. Then he will hold a final series of public probes until August. During this time the senator will push for anti-racket laws.

IN AUGUST, McClellan believes the time will come for whipping together a final report to the Congress. There might be those who want to continue into '60, he says, but, "What's the use if we get no laws."

Stirring the senator's bitterness is the knowledge that very little has changed after two years of probing — and that big-time scandals are brewing and breaking all over the land.

For example, several new federal grand juries will be impaneled between now and Oct. 22 in the Southern District of New York where the McClellan Committee chief counsel, Robert Kennedy, found the first scandals. Special Justice Department units have been working for more than six months gathering evidence.

At the same time, across the river in Newark, N.J., the authoritives have discovered that over $300,000, not just $200,000 as originally reported, disappeared from the treasury and two welfare funds of Local 21 of the Retail Clerks Union. This union covers employes of three big department stores — Bambergers, Kleins and Lerner's.

CHECKS WERE DRAWN on the funds by one union official without so much as informing the employer trustees of the welfare operations. The local district attorney and the police are just beginning to discover the enormity of the looting — which went on right through the public probing of other unions.

Everywhere there has been such crooked business-as-usual despite the spotlight on the Senate committee's hearings. For example, there are reports that the committee plans to start quiet preliminary analysis of Texas rackets. The timetable calls for action on Nov. 12 — though there have been no details on what the investigators have found.

And at such in-between points as Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Miami and St. Louis, the probers have been piling up what they report is evidence of other multi-million dollar labor rackers.

If the new Congress wants action, it will have to prove it by acting itself.

How Big Is Small?

By Raymond Moley

The recently adjourned Congress left an aftermath of spending schemes to end a recession that was ending itself. But the melody and the cost linger on. One example is the beefing up of the federal government's Small Business Administration.

The fact is that this department is growing so rapidly and raising the limits of its loans so high that it threatens to become another RFC.

The RFC, after long outliving its usefulness and rapidly becoming a scandal, was abolished some years ago because as a child of the great depression it was not justifiable in times of piping prosperity.

But political hypocrisy has promulgated the notion that this form of relief is a great boon to the little fellow. Even the Republicans are lauding private enterprise and also taking credit for initiating and enlarging this form of government interference with the normal economic processes. Let us see just what it is and what it does.

THE SPONSORS OF this form of help create the impression that small business must be helped because it competes helplessly with big business. But small business under the definition imposed by the federal regulation really competes with itself.

Under the definition in use by the SBA, 67 lines of industry in which the standard is 1,000 employees are qualified for loans. These are lines in which the units are characteristically large, since a company with 1,000 employes is hardly a small one.

There are 280 qualified lines in which the standard is 250 employees, but for the most part these are lines in which, because of the nature of the product, even 100 employees is a large number.

If we look at the non-manufacturing companies, we find pretty big retailers. Here the standard is a million dollars. Here, if you take a basis of 300 business days a year it means receipts of $4,300 a day—not a very small retailer! For special types of retailing the standard is higher.

For wholesaling the standard is five million, which means $16,500 a day. For truckers the standard is two million, which is $6,600 a day. These are the standards for financial assistance.

Different standards are used for government procurement, where the standard is 500 employees for a small company.

The trend, however, is to raise the limit of loans to approach the RFC stage. Congress has just raised the loan limit to $350,000. Thus the government is getting into big money.

Since decent prudence demands collateral and a showing of ability to repay, the credit-worthiness of a borrower increases with size. Under such conditions, the starting of a new business is virtually impossible.

THE NAKED FACT is that competent economists say that 98 per cent of all firms have less than 50 employees and 99 per cent have less than 500. For manufacturing, the percentage is less than for retailing and wholesaling.

So far as assets are concerned, in manufacturing and mining— in which there are more than 400,000 units — as many as 290,000 have assets of less than $50,000. Only 42,000 have assets of between $50,000 and $100,000. Thus the typical business is very small.

Yet politics continues to bring pressure to include more and more companies of medium size under the definition of "small." Thus the SBA works increasingly to the disadvantage of the small businesses it was meant to help, strengthening their competitors as it grows into a replica of the RFC.

Should They Debate Or Not?

By Warren Rogers Jr.

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have suggested that political campaigners refrain from debating foreign policy. Each suggested an exception. The exceptions seem to cancel each other out.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday: "There is a very clear distinction to be made with respect to foreign policy as I see it. One is the policy and one is its operation. . . .

"I do not, by any means, decry intelligent questioning and criticism of any particular point. But when it comes to the policy that is being established, I think it has been standing pretty well on its own feet for a long time."

Dulles told his news conference the day before: "I do not think that it is wise that current aspects of foreign policy should be injected in the campaign. I think there are some basic problems of foreign policy which can be discussed in terms of underlying principles."

That would seem to leave Republican and Democratic orators in the congressional campaign in a dilemma. If they discuss current aspects, it would be all right with Eisenhower but not with Dulles. If they talk about established basic policy, Eisenhower might object but not Dulles.

However, the conflict may be more apparent than real. Usually, in such cases Eisenhower's stock comment is that he and Dulles keep in touch and always see eye to eye.

And anyway, few politicians of either party ever show much inclination to avoid discussing foreign policy if it means possible votes.

Odd Facts

Horses sometimes go for several days without lying down. They possess the ability to sleep while standing because they can lock their leg muscles. This makes it possible for a horse to sleep in an erect position just as though he were braced.

A Cincinnati businessman, Levi Coffin, was sometimes called "president" of the Underground Railroad for his help to slaves escaping from southern states to freedom in Canada.

Intra-Party Strife

By David Lawrence

Parties Face Internal Conflicts

It may sound paradoxical, but it looks now as if Republicans will defeat Republicans in the 1958 congressional elections and Democrats may defeat Democrats in the 1960 presidential elections. There are sufficient Republican votes in the country to elect a majority of the members of both the Senate and House this year, but at present it seems probable a lower percentage than usual will go to the polls.

David Lawrence

As for 1960, there would appear to be enough electoral votes in sight already in the North — based on current trends — to give Democrats a victory in the presidential race, but this assumes the South will cast its electoral vote for the Democrats, instead of for a third party.

The present outlook is for a third party to emerge by 1960 in the South because of cleavages on the "civil rights" issue. This could mean defeat in the Electoral College for the regular Democratic party nominees for president and vice president.

The problem for the Republicans in the 1958 congressional elections has meanwhile been complicated by the spilt inside the party on the subject of "modernism" and "conservatism."

The so-called "modernists" have done much to alienate conservatives and now, when the call is for harmony and efforts are being made to persuade conservative Republicans to let bygones be bygones, it is being discovered that it takes a lot more than a few weeks' exhortation just before an election to overcome the mistakes of the past.

TOO MUCH of the Republican strategy heretofore seems to have been influenced by the mistaken belief that the "independent" vote is always anti-Republican and concessions must be made to the "left wing" side of the economic argument of the day in order to win the support of "independents."

The Democrats have cleverly cultivated that point of view to such an extent that many Republicans in the administration have hesitated until recently to use the word "conservative" in reference to the economic battle, though they have at last — and with good reason — begun to point to "socialistic" trends among Northern and Western Democrats.

It is true that Southern Democrats who are conservative have saved the day many a time for the Republican administration's legislative program in Congress, but it is also true that these Southern Democrats will be very much in the minority and will have less and less influence in Congress if Northern and Western socialists and radicals get the upper hand in the councils of the Democratic party in November.

This could be the result if the Democrats win a landslide victory in the congressional elections because of the apathy of conservative Republican voters.

Some businessmen have been saying to themselves that a Congress controlled by the Democratic party isn't so bad after all, because the last four years have not been disastrous, legislatively speaking, for the conservative side.

But if the Democrats get a substantial majority in Congress, radicalism and socialism will be hard to beat, especially if there are more "modern" Republicans elected in the North to form a coalition with radical Democrats.

THERE IS a deep-seated ideological conflict going on now inside both major parties. Labor-union leaders of the country are making a strenuous effort this year to elect a majority in Congress favorable to their cause.

It is an open secret that millions upon millions of dollars as well as the services of tens of thousands of precinct workers are being supplied by the labor unions for the benefit of Democratic candidates this autumn. Neither political party in the last half-century has had a regular organization in any election campaign comparable in money or numbers of precinct workers to what the labor leaders are contributing this time to the Democratic side.

Labor-union bosses will own the Democratic party — or at least will deserve to have the dominant say — for they will have won the election.

Businessmen are beginning slowly to wake up to the dangerous situation that will face them if labor unions control Congress.

Antiracketeering legislation will be watered down or defeated, and there will be renewed attempts to weaken the Taft-Hartley Act by amendments.

There is no logical reason why conservatives should carry resentment against the Eisenhower administration to the point of staying away from the polls. The 1958 election may prove a turning point in the economic battle between the socialistic and the conservative viewpoint.

Incidentally, in the elections in Pennsylvania, Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh is running for governor on the Democratic ticket. This correspondent has received many letters asking if he is running for office there. This writer is a native of Pennsylvania, but he is not related in any way to the Democratic nominee for governor. Mayor Lawrence has a middle initial "L." in his name. This writer has no initial.

Letters To The Editor

I have heard much talk of this Right - To - Work Bill. As I see this bill, it is a destruction and a smear to all unions and union members.

I was a member of the CIO Steel Workers Union since 1936, and I have never cried over the dues I paid to them, for I have gotten 20 times as much through the CIO as I have paid in dues. I think any true and honest union man or woman can say the same for their union.

I worked at one place eight years before the union came in, and the boss could lay me off and put his brother, brother - in - law, son or even his best friend on my job.

Later I went to work for the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland. I worked as a mechanic for 24 years and it was the best company I ever worked for except for a couple of bosses who called themselves good union members but would cut your throat to get your job.

I have retired now and all is forgotten, but I will say the company and the union have always treated me fine.

To get back to this Right - To-Work Bill. If the voters of Ohio let this bill pass, then I will say Ohio has gone to Muleisum.

What would this town have been if it hadn't been for unemployment benefits or sub-pay and did you get it handed to you on a silver platter!?

No, your union worked real hard to get it for you. Now when you go to the polls on Nov. 4 use your head, not only to hang your hat on, but to think. For if you let this right to work bill in Ohio, you have lost your nose. Did the people in Washington do any thing about the high cost of living going up when this recession started. No, but how they do yelp when the union dues go up. Some think a union can be run on a shoe string. Hasn't everything gone up in this country today? Even property tax and income tax. And maybe if things keep on going they'll pass a bill for carpet tacks. What this country needs is more Roosevelts and Trumans and not so many loggerheads.

Now union men and women on Nov. 4 vote this bill down or regret it after it passes.

O. B. RUCKMAN
745 Valley Ave.

After reading the editorial in Tuesday's paper, I want to say that you and your paper make me sick. I can't see why all union people don't refuse to buy or read such trash.

I hope your (right to scab) law gets what is coming to it and its supporters at the polls.

Little Rock's Board Faces Faubus Action

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock School Board today faced the threat of legislative action to make it release teachers for a private school operation.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus accused the board of blocking progress on the private education plan by refusing to free its teachers from their contracts.

After conferring with the governor, State Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perry County said if the board continues in its refusal the legislature will step into the matter.

"If necessary we will release them by abolishing the district altogether," Van Dalsem said. He added that other legislators agreed with his viewpoint.

Dr. William G. Cooper, a School Board member, replied to Faubus' charge by saying the board had not attempted to tell public school teachers what to do.

The teachers have been advised by their attorneys not to participate in any private school plan, in view of a federal court order issued last month restraining the board and all other parties from engaging in such a plan.

The order was extended Wednesday by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Presiding Judge Joseph W. Woodrough of the special three-member panel said the edict will remain in force until the court makes its final ruling "as soon as possible."

The order was broadened to include not only the School Board but all others who might try to block integration through the Little Rock Private School Corp. The court said the order had to be extended to protect what racial integration had already been accomplished in Little Rock schools.

Six Negroes are enrolled at the closed Little Rock Central High, the only school in the city which has been integrated.

Texans Flee By Thousands In Flood, Rain

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The flooding Rio Grande teamed up with heavy downpours to chase thousands from their homes on both sides of the border river.

More rains upstream on the Mexican side threatened even higher water.

Heavy releases of water were made from Falcon Reservoir, about 150 miles upstream, because the flood pool was full and more water was headed downstream. The releases combined with downpours and inflows from Mexico to spread flooding and misery from the huge reservoir to the Gulf.

At Elsa, Tex., heavy rains of up to 5 inches flooded streets and houses, closed schools and sent some 120 persons to temporary shelters.

The Mexican city of Carmago was deserted except for police and army officials. The entire population, estimated at more than 5,000, sought higher ground when the Rio San juan backed into streets and houses.

Penitas and Abram, two small American villages south of Mission, were ordered evacuated as a precaution.

No loss of life was reported.

Reds May Try To Seize Tiny Wuchiu Isles

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Four Communist planes flew over the tiny Wuchiu Islands today, raising speculation on Formosa that the Reds might try to seize those Nationalist outposts midway between Quemoy and Matsu to offset their failure to invade Quemoy.

The Wuchius lie in the Formosa Strait 15 miles from the mainland 80 miles from Formosa. One of the two islands, Wuchiu, is 128 acres, and the other, Little Wuchiu, is 57.6 acres.

The Chinese Nationalists use them as a lookout post.

Nationalist Defense Ministry said four Red planes circled over the Wuchius for 26 minutes in midmorning, then returned to the mainland.

Observers on Formosa thought the Reds might calculate they could capture the islands with relative ease, then trumpet their victory as the first step toward their long-promised capture of Formosa.

The Nationalists have kept quiet about their defenses on the Wuchius. There is no reason to believe U.S. forces would intervene in fighting there.

Board Grants Contract For Bus Oil, Fuel

Lisbon Unit To Pay For Letters Urging Bond Issue Support

LISBON—Contract to supply gas and oil for seven Lisbon school buses and a jeep truck was let by the Board of Education Wednesday night to Louis Baronzzi of Sunset Dr., operator of Louie's Service Station.

The bid, one of three received, allowed 2½ cents discount for gasoline and 12 cents discount on oil.

Mrs. Arch Peppel was hired to transport pupils on Township Line Rd. to Route 164 to board the school bus which cannot turn around on the road.

Board members agreed to pay personally for printed letter appeals to parents, urging support of the bond issue in the Nov. 4 election for six new classrooms at the Lincoln School. The letters will be placed in report cards pupils will receive Oct. 24.

A salary increase was authorized for Ernest Costello, whose teacher qualifications were raised with added college credits. The board also changed the employment time of Mrs. Twila Hochman, area supervisor, to 11 months, and Mrs. Elizabeth Duke, music instructor, to 9 months next term. The extra salary will be paid by the state.

The board granted George Nace, principal, permission to attend the annual high school athletic directors meeting at Columbus Nov. 17. Supt. Loren Early and board members will attend the annual meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association at Columbus Nov. 11-13.

Supt Early was authorized to approve the use of school buses without board action. A written report on the annual school supervisors conference last month at Columbus was submitted by David Borrow, Cornell Monda, Mrs. Hochman and Mrs. Duke.

The board approved X-ray examination for school personnel every other year instead of annually.

The need for padding in the gymnasium, to protect pupils, and for covering the stage at one end of the gym will be investigated.

The board proclaimed Education Week starting Nov. 10, and recommended that parents visit schools.

The next meeting will be Nov. 4.

Styling Elegance Marks '59 Ford

The 1959 Ford car line, which already has received an award at the Brussels World Fair for styling elegance, will go on display Friday at three district dealers — Carroll Motors Sales, Inc., 740 Dresden Ave., East Liverpool; Wells Motors, 420 Broadway, Wellsville, and the temple Motor Co., Carolina Ave., Chester.

The Ford Sunliner convertible is shown above in a picturesque World's Fair setting.

J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager, said:

"The 1959 Ford car is new in concept and new in style. The styling theme is good taste, a result of consumer demand for more elegance and dignity in automotive styling as opposed to gaudiness or extremism."

In addition to Ford engines that have been engineered for greater fuel economy, Ford offers quality - designed construction and a new, lighter Fordomatic transmission with 105 fewer parts than in 1958, Wright said.

"Every piece of body sheet metal in the 1959 Ford has been changed to reflect the good taste of the Thunderbird—America's most successfully - styled car. The Thunderbird's crisp, taut lines have given the Ford a formal quality and the impression of a bigger, heavier car without the addition of bulk."

Ford's 1959 styling earned the plaudits of the noted fashion authority, the Comite Francais de l'Elegance, which, for the first time in history, bestowed a gold medal for styling on an American automobile at the close of the Brussels international exposition.

The 1959 Ford engines offer greater operating economy and improved engine performance in the normal driving ranges, 30 to 70 miles an hour. Ford recommends regular grade gasoline in all standard engines, which can result in a saving of up to one dollar a tank full. These benefits have been achieved in part by a slight horse - power reduction.

Wright said every new Ford is "quality - designed," a term Ford engineers use to define the emphasis placed on quality in the basic design of the car, starting from the drawing board stage.

The result is a simplified design where possible, elimination of unnecessary parts as in the case of the new transmission, and more durable parts, such as Ford's new extended - life muffler and Diamond Lustre finish, an enamel that requires no waxing for the lifetime of the car.

Supporting the "quality design" program is a "quality built" philosophy, that centers on Ford's recently - dedicated Quality Control Center at Allen Park, Mich., where 1959 models were assembled on a pilot line months before introduction to be sure that each part met all engineering specifications and assembly requirements.

The 1959 Ford lines includes 17 models ranging from the Custom 300's, which are six inches longer than in 1958, through the six station wagon models, to the Fairlanes and Fairlane 500's. Station wagon length has been increased more than five inches; cargo area is eight inches longer, and cargo space is 11 cubic feet more than in last year's models. All 1959 Fords will be on a 118-inch wheelbase and will have an over-all length of 208 inches.

2 Bound Over For Gun Theft

Suspects Admit Link With City Burglary

Two young men were bound over to the Grand Jury today in Municipal Court in connection with the Oct. 1 burglary of an East End sports shop in which guns and other merchandise worth $500 were taken.

Robert G. Wolf, 19, of 854 Pennsylvania Ave. pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in the entering of Bob's Sports Shop, 948 Pennsylvania Ave., operated by Robert Broadbent. Lloyd Carl Leisure, 20, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 pleaded guilty to a charge he knowingly "bought and concealed" a shotgun worth $78.70 taken in the burglary.

Judge George L. Brokaw fixed Wolf's bond at $1,000 and set Leisure's at $500. No testimony was taken because of the guilty pleas.

The formal charge against Wolf is breaking and entering a business place in the night season with intent to steal property of value. The specific charge against Leisure is that he "did buy, receive or conceal" a Winchester Model 12-20-guage shotgun, knowing it to have been stolen.

Six other guns were taken in the burglary, along with smaller items of merchandise and $7 in change.

The two were arrested Tuesday night by Patrolmen Thomas Walker and Charles E. (Bill) Tice of the police Special Service Bureau, working in co-operation with Lt. George B. Kidd.

Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti today sent letters of commendation to each of the three officers who helped crack the case.

"Your diligence bespeaks the true spirit of the profession of which you are a part," the letters said in part.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11.

Puzzle Posed Over Parking Right At Home

Does a motorist have a right to park in front of his own home, at least long enough to "transact necessary business," without being given a ticket for a violation?

That question was posed today for Muncipal Judge George L. Brokaw when Lewis Varner, 106 W. Drury Ln., was haled into court on a warrant, accused of one meter overtime violation and 12 other citations for parking in the alley at his home.

Judge Brokaw fined Varner $10 and costs for the overtime violation, but said he will not rule on the 12 other tickets unless the city files an individual charge in each case.

"I'm guilty of that ticket," Varner told the court, referring to the overtime violation on which the warrant was issued. "But the others were for parking in front of my home. I don't have any other place to park and I can't afford to pay a meter all the time."

Varner said he tried parking his auto on a dark street nearby on several occasions, but it was damaged by hit - skip drivers.

"The Meter Maid lives right up the alley from me and she used to ticket me every morning before I could get my car out of there," Varner added.

"The law has to yield to a man's right to park in front of his own property to transact necessary business," Judge Brokaw commented.

"Yes, but how far does it go?" Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark asked.

"I would have to determine that in each case," the judge said. "If the city wants to make a case out of each one of them, all right." Varner was brought into court on a warrant issued yesterday.

Meanwhile, the court decreed a fine of $5 and costs for a motorist accused of ignoring 22 other tickets. The fine was imposed on Corliss Myers of Park Way in connection with an overtime violation April 3 on Dresden Ave. He pleaded not guilty.

Judge Brokaw instructed Myers to pay $2 for each of the other 21 tickets at the Meter Maid office. Myers paid $20 this morning and said he will pay $22 more next week. Myers also was taken into court on a warrant.

Officials Will Get Analysis Of Work On Traffic Safety

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence said today the city is scheduled to receive next Wednesday from the National Safety Council at Chicago a comprehensive analysis of its traffic safety and control program.

The analysis will be presented to a meeting of city officials, civic leaders and interested citizens by Andrew J. Pavlik of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. It will evaluate all phases of the city's program, covering accident records, traffic engineering, police traffic supervision, traffic courts, school safety, public traffic safety education and safety organizations —the general administration of the citywide safety effort.

The analysis is part of a statewide program offered by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety in co-operation with the National Safety Council. Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti is the inventory co-ordinator for East Liverpool.

The mayor said the analysis is organized "to reflect the best thinking and experience to date on accident prevention and is adapted especially to meet the characteristics and needs of East Liverpool."

Funeral Rites For Late Pope Are Celebrated

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Funeral masses were celebrated today for Pope Pius XII in St. Peter's Basilica and at a chapel near the pontiff's tomb in the grottos of the great church.

Bricklayers and carpenters built barriers to isolate the Sistine Chapel and adjoining Vatican buildings to be occupied by the College of Cardinals during the conclave to elect his successor.

Scientists Say Atomic World Needs Regulating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The world of the atom from H-bombs to fluoroscopes needs regulating. And before the whole field is well in hand just about everybody from the federal government to the village council will have a hand in it.

That's the conclusion of over 100 scientists, government officials and industrialists who attended a three-day conference on peaceful uses of the atom here. The conference ended Wednesday.

There was general agreement that regulatory action is necessary, but there was a difference of opinion as to whether the federal or state governments should take the lead.

It was felt that states should at least take action to regulate those sources of radiation which are not licensed by the atomic energy commission, such as X-ray machines, fluoroscopes and radium.

Municipal and county governments also will have to have regulations covering users of radiation emitters, the conference concluded.

The conference also urged formation of state-level atomic energy advisory groups to coordinate atomic development and act as liaison between state and federal agencies.

Found Dead In Car

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Jerome Landow, 65, a New York City jewelry salesman, was found dead Wednesday in his automobile, which was rammed against a tree in nearby Sheffield Village. Lorain County Coroner Paul J. Kopsch ruled he had died of a heart attack before the crash.

Fresh Oil Blamed In East End Crash

Recently-applied street oil was blamed for a crash Wednesday at 2:49 p. m. on Maple St. at Locust St. in East End in which a truck skidded into a parked vehicle, police said.

The skid was blamed by Robert Sumner, 32, of New Castle, driver of a rig owned by the National Leasing Corp. of Pittsburgh. It struck a parked truck owned by Purle E. Clutter, 2142 Crawford Ave., damaging the left side and front, police said.

Sumner told police he was making a turn onto Maple St. from Locust St. when his truck skidded on oil recently applied on the street. The tailgate of his truck hit the other parked vehicle, he said.

Biggest Atomic Tunnel Shot Jars Ground 2 Miles

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —The biggest tunnel shot ever fired here—but a baby as nuclear blasts go—jarred the ground two miles away Wednesday night.

Another full-scale shot was scheduled to be fired today from a balloon 500 feet high.

Magnesium flares dropped from an Air Force plane illuminated the mesa as the second atomic blast of the day went off at 10 o'clock Wednesday night in a chamber 830 feet underground. The explosion was the seventh full-scale detonation and the second full-scale underground shot of the current test series.

The power yield was described as below one kiloton. A kiloton is the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

A device of less than one kiloton was fired Wednesday morning from atop a 50-foot wooden tower. Perfection of small battlefield weapons is one aim of the test series.

Henry Clay, who almost but did not quite become president of the U.S., won his law degree at the age of 21. He was still under 30 when appointed to the U.S. Senate in 1806.

Bombings

Officers said the letters and a statement by one of those arrested tied two other persons in custody to a group that met here last May to plot the bombing of The Temple.

Bomb Explodes Near Jehovah Witness Place

BOSTON (AP) — A homemade bomb exploded near a meeting place of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect Wednesday night.

The meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Agnes Harootunian, about 45, had adjourned about an hour before the explosion.

No one was injured, but the blast blew out about 30 windows in nearby tenements and shot pieces of the bomb into walls of several buildings.

Police refused to comment on the possibility the explosion was in any way connected with the recent bombings of synagogues in Peoria, Ill., and Atlanta, Ga.

Court Terms For 1959 Announced For County

The January term begins Jan. 5, April term April 6 and September term Sept. 14.

Algeria

Cherif Sid Cara, a Moslem co-president of the committee, sent a message from Oran, his home town, repudiating the committee's call. Azem Ouali, the other Moslem copresident, and El Madoui, a vice president, appealed from Paris for the population not to follow the committee's orders.

The strike call was the result of De Gaulle's directive Monday ordering the army to get out of politics. This meant army officers must give up their places on the committee, leaving the civilian members with little strength to preserve their generations-long dominance of Algerian political life.

Bellaire's Heavy Squad Brings 4-1 Record Here Friday

Big Fullback Chief Threat For Big Reds

Bellaire High's Big Reds, who seem to come up with a block-busting fullback every few years, will be running true to form when they visit Patterson Field Friday night for a game with East Liverpool.

With a hefty line averaging 186 pounds in front of him, star fullback Dennis DeBlasis, a 190-pounder, has been drawing acclaim for his running feats in Upper Ohio Valley circles and has been compared to Mike (The Tank) Ingram, a standout for Bellaire several years back.

Like Ingram, DeBlasis seems to rely on sheer running power and packs enough weight on his 5-foot 6-inch frame to arm the Big Reds with a tremendous offensive wallop.

However, he was injured in Bellaire's loss to Moundsville two weeks ago and may not have recovered enough to see 60 minutes of action this week. He is only a sophomore.

Moundsville snapped a three-game winning streak which Bellaire had posted over Marietta, 24-8, Triadelphia, 36-6, and Cambridge, 30-6, but the Big Reds bounced back last week by tripping Linsly Military Institute, 14-0.

Although Bellaire will match its 4-1 record against East Liverpool's 1-3-1, indications are that the game should be rated a tossup since Bellaire's opponents haven't been in the class of the Potter foes.

But the Belmont Countians will have a tremendous weight advantage. Potter Coach Lou Venditti ventured that "Bellaire will be the biggest squad we will face all year—without a doubt."

While Ralph Hendershot at 140 pounds is the biggest man on the forward wall, Potter scouting reports tab right guard Charlie Kavinta, a 175-pounder, as the outstanding player.

Halfback Tommy Schramm, at 160 pounds, also looms as a threat. Schramm has racked up 52 points this year on six touchdowns and a pair of extra point runs and is a threat to the outside.

While quarterback Eddie Jackson is not an outstanding passer, he is a smooth operator of Bellaire's T and short punt formations and makes up for his lack of passing ability by often running on keeper plays.

Not listed on the starting lineup but slated for a lot of action on the line is Joe Bonar, a 230 - pound tackle, who was injured recently. He usually rotates with Gary Sherman, 185 pounds, at the tackle spot.

Also on the injury list is John Patrone, 180-pound halfback, who scored 16 points in Bellaire's first two games before being shelved about two weeks ago. He is not likely to see action Friday, according to Bellaire followers.

Strictly a power club, Coach Bud Bonar also has several more heavyweights ready for action, including Andy Edwards, last year's quarterback beaten out this year by Jackson. Edwards scales 190.

Meanwhile, the Potters have lost the services for Friday's game of halfback Dave Zelch and halfback Jim Sparks due to injuries. Zelch saw only limited action in last week's battle with Warren and probably will not dress Friday night. Tackle Mike Kapp is slated to return to action after missing three games because of a leg injury.

The Potters will be meeting Bellaire for the 22nd time. Bellaire has won 16 and lost only 4 and one game ended in a tie. The Potters have triumphed the last two years, winning 26-19 in 1955 and 34-12 in 1956. The two squads did not meet last year.

SET FOR BELLAIRE. These two sophomores and a junior, who were standouts for East Liverpool in last week's rugged battle with top-ranked Warren, are slated for plenty of action Friday night when the Potters encounter Bellaire at Patterson Field. Kneeling are junior guard Charlie Davidson, 165-pounds, left, and sophomore end Tim Archer, 150-pounds. Ken Cunningham, standing, 140-pound sophomore quarterback, may draw the starting assignment Friday because of an injury to regular signal-caller Bob Mackall. Cunningham and Archer teamed up for a Potter touchdown against Warren on a pass play, while Davidson drew the praise of Coach Lou Venditti and his staff for his sparkling line play. Archer also serves as kick-off man for the Potters.

Heavyweight Picture Clear, At Least To Champ's Pilot

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavyweight picture is very clear today, at least in the eyes of Cus D'Amato, manager of world champion Floyd Patterson.

Here is the way D'Amato sizes it up:

1. England's Henry Cooper and Sweden's undefeated Ingemar Johansson are worthy challengers.

2. Eddie Machen (knocked out in the first round by Johansson), Zora Folley (outpointed by Cooper) and Willie Pastrano (stopped on cuts by England's Brian London) were overrated when they were ranked 1-2-3 among the contenders. (Machen, Folley and Pastrano are Americans.)

3. But since everyone had ranked them 1-2-3 before, then these same people must concede the worthiness of Cooper and Johansson.

4. He will consider a title fight in London next spring or summer with Cooper but he also intends to go through with a commitment for a summer title defense in Colorado Springs, Colo. He had promised London promoter Harry Levene that if Levene had a worthy opponent he would go to London and fight for him.

5. Patterson will not fight for anyone remotely connected with the International Boxing Club. And that's why he won't accept a big home television offer for a Dec. 5 fight in Madison Square Garden.

Ned Irish, executive vice president of the Garden, said Wednesday that D'Amato had rejected a $300,000 bid from the National Broadcasting Co. on behalf of Gillette, sponsors of the IBC's Friday night fights, for a Dec. 5 fight in the Garden. The unnamed opponent was expected to be Cuba's Nino Valdes. Irish said D'Amato also had turned down five other dates in the arena.

D'Amato charged that the IBC stifles competition by running both the Wednesday and Friday night television boxing shows. He has been shouting that ever since he split with the IBC nearly two years ago.

Ravenna Grid Captain Reported Critically Ill

RAVENNA — The captain of Ravenna High School's football squad, Tony Reith, 18, was reported critically ill today in Robinson Memorial Hospital with lockjaw. The tetanus infection came from a cut on the leg suffered in a football game with Salem High School three weeks ago.

The fullback, a senior, has been in the hospital since Friday night when he collapsed during a football game with Kent State High.

PCL's Strikeout King Bought By Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Left-hander Marshall Bridges, 27, the Pacific Coast League's strikeout king, has been bought by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Purchase of the Negro from Sacramento was announced Wednesday. The price was not disclosed. Bridges, one-time first baseman who turned to pitching in 1955, won 16 and lost 11 with Sacramento this year.

West Virginia Hunting Season Opens Friday

CHARLESTON—Turkeys, grouse and squirrels became legal game in West Virginia Friday with the opening of the hunting season.

Before the overall season for all game closes Jan. 3, West Virginia can expect from 10 to 15 deaths and from 70 to 75 woundings due to "early season jitters" and "youthful hunters," Conservation Director Warden Lane has predicted.

Squirrel hunters made up 37 of 83 hunting accidents last year, and in 1956, accounted for 44 of 86 shootings. Six hunters are predicted to die the first day of the hunting season if trends of the past are a true indication of what can be expected, Lane said.

Clock In Garden Konks Out, Bruins And Rangers Tie

NEW YORK (AP) —The electric clock in Madison Square Garden went on the blink in the first period of Wednesday night's National Hockey League game between the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins.

That might have been an indication of what was to come.

Everything went wrong for the Rangers, who made their season home debut before 14,059 — the largest opening NHL crowd in New York in nine years.

The Rangers held a 4-0 lead after two periods. The clock was repaired. Ranger netminder Marcel Paille was doing a fine job. Dean Prentice had clicked for a couple of nifty goals and Red Sullivan and Larry Popein had added the others.

Then, four goals by the Bruins in the final 12 minutes and New York had to settle for a 4-4 deadlock. The Blueshirts have yet to win a game, having tied three and lost one.

Bronco Horvath, a former Ranger, scored the tying goal ofr Boston with only 1:33 remaining in the game.

Stengel Signs New Contract; Sees '59 Flag

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, fortified with a new two-year, $80,000 contract, predicts his New York Yankees will make it five American League pennants in a row next year.

"If I didn't think we'd win again," he told a mammoth press conference, "I wouldn't have signed this piece of paper."

The 68-year-old pilot, still flush with what he called his greatest World Series triumph, said he would seek to strengthen the club for next year by trades.

"We could use another pitcher, another outfielder and a right-handed pinch hitter. I'd say that this past year I was weaker than I've ever been during my 10 years here in the right-handed pinch-hitting department.'

Stengel didn't identify any of the players he would seek but he hinted strongly he'd like to get either Pedro Ramos or Camilo Pascual, Washington's top two pitchers, and Roy Sievers, the Senators' slugging left fielder.

"I read the other day where they (Washington) said we'd have to give up four or five players if we wanted to do business with them. Then they said that three of their players (presumably Ramos, Pascual and Sievers) were not for trade. Well, who else do they have besides those three?"

Stengel said he had a surplus of infielders who were expendable but did not say which ones would be offered in trade. He has three third basemen in Andy Carey Jerry Lumpe and Bobby Richardson. Carey appears the most expendable.

Norm Siebern, who was benched after his unfortunate fielding misplays in left field in the fourth game of the World Series, will not be traded, according to Stengel.

"I haven't given up on the left fielder," is the way he put it. "No amount of money can have him."

Stengel indicated that Elston Howard, who led the club in batting this year, would replace the aging Yogi Berra as the team's No. 1 catcher.

Dick Colman, in his second season as Princeton's football coach, is only the fourth nongraduate to handle the Tigers. Fritz Crisler was the first.

Wellsville Seeks To Snap Salem's Long Win Streak

A football rivalry which has extended over a half century will be renewed tonight at 8 (DST) in Salem at Reilly Stadium where the Quakers and Wellsville will meet in their 48th contest.

The Tigers will be trying to win their first game since 1942 from Salem. To do so, however, they will have to contain a powerful Salem offense which has amassed 118 points in five games.

Fullback Lou Slaby, leading Salem scorer with 36 points, and halfback Ralph Earhart feature the Quaker ground attack. They have been tabbed Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside of the Salem backfield, with Slaby especially effective on power plays up the middle and Earhart a constant threat on end runs.

Coach Earl Bruce lost key men which had a 9-1 campaign and was ranked 10th in the state, but still fields a veteran team this year of nine seniors and two juniors.

Salem has won three games—all of them shutouts—and dropped two. The Quakers downed Ravenna, 34-0, Canton Timken, 21-0, and Wooster, 33-0, while losing to Cleveland John Marshall, 19-12, and Brookfield, 26-16.

Coach Ken Wood's Tiger eleven will be shooting for victory number two tonight. Wellsville's lone triumph was a 6-0 decision over Bellaire St. John's. The Tigers have tied one while losing three.

Since a 60-14 loss to powerful Austintown Fitch, the Wellsville defense has been fairly sound, yielding only 50 points in four games. Offensively the Tigers have notched 52 points for the season to date.

Both teams have gained most of their yardage on the ground, but Wellsville quarterback Bob Kiggans and Kent Malloy, the Salem signal caller, have passed effectively on occasions.

Salem has completely dominated the long series which began in 1905, winning 47 games and losing only 8. Two games ended in ties.

Wellsville never has been able to score more than two successive wins over the Quakers, who have had consecutive victory streaks over the Tigers of 9, 14 and 6 twice.

The two foes did not meet last year — the first interruption in the series since 1924. But in 1956 the Quakers beat Wellsville, 20-13.

Outscore 'Em, If You Can't Stop 'Em, Brown Says

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul E. Brown of the Cleveland Browns employs an uncomplicated football strategy—if you can't stop the opposition, outscore 'em.

The result: The Browns usually win.

Last season, with a shaky offense, Coach Brown stopped the opposition cold with a strong defense. In 1957's first three games, all of which the Browns won, the opponents could score only 22 points.

This year the Cleveland defense has not been too successful, allowing the opposition to score 67 points in three games. But the Browns won all three by collecting 110 points.

Comparing last year's team with the 1958 Browns, Coach Brown observed:

"Our defensive team is essentially the same. I don't know why there should be a change.

"It will be interesting to see how the defense performs this week. Naturally I'm not happy about the points that have been scored against us."

The Pittsburgh Steelers, downed 45-12 by Cleveland two weeks ago, challenge the Browns Sunday at Municipal Stadium.

Returning to action after sitting out last week's clash with the Chicago Cardinals because of injuries are halfback Leroy Bolden and end Pete Brewster. Both were injured against the Steelers.

Dupas Wins On Decision

MONTREAL (AP) — Ralph Dupas of New Orleans had too many legs and arms for Gil Turner of Philadelphia Wednesday night. The young Cajun boxer, on the move from start to finish, shot a steady stream of hooks and jabs to win a unanimous decision.

The 10-round welterweight bout, telecast nationally in the United States, attracted only about 1,800 in Montreal Forum. Dupas gave away 7½ pounds, weighing 144½ to Turner's 152.

Dupas' shiftiness and speed confused the slower moving Philadelphian, whose attack was limited almost solely to swinging body blows that didn't appear to bother Dupas.

Dupas was such a shadow-like moving target that Turner never figured him out, let alone getting him stationary long enough to do much damage.

Dupas' snapping left the sharp right hooks seemed to come from all directions on Turner, who was in trouble in the sixth and eighth rounds and appeared bewildered and uncertain. Dupas tried to set up his opponent for a knockout in the sixth but lacked the power to end the fight.

Dupas went into the fight the favorite although currently ranked No. 6, against No. 3 for Turner, in the National Boxing Assn. welterweight rankings. Dupas was 23 years old Monday. Turner is 27.

Westgate's Freshmen Downed By Central

Coach Bill Blair's Westgate Junior High frosh were defeated by Steubenville Central Catholic freshmen Wednesday, 24-8. It was the second defeat of the season for Westgate.

Jack Deshler scored Westgate's touchdown on a short plunge while Don Menough made the two-point conversion. Another freshman game is scheduled Oct. 22 with East Palestine at 5:30 p. m. The Westgate seventh and eighth grade gridders have a 1-0 record.

East Junior High was to meet Toronto today at 4:30 at Patterson Field.

Hit-And-Run Tactics Work For Gridder

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Hit-and-run tactics, frowned upon in traffic safety circles, work fine on the football field for Colorado's Howard Cook.

He'd sooner try to knock down a player trying to stop him than go around.

The 21-year-old senior from Wyoming is as good a reason as any why the Colorado Buffaloes are undefeated and leading the nation in total offense.

Cook, packing 185 pounds on his 5-foot-11 chassis, has rambled 282 yards in the 40 times he's carried the ball this season, an average of better than seven yards each trip.

He's thrown 48 passes and connected on 22, seven of them for touchdowns. He's the top scorer of the Big Eight Conference with 41 points and its chief ground gainer.

Cook is unimpressive on the practice field.

"If he didn't play any better on Saturday than he does on Tuesday," said a Colorado coach, "Cook would have a hard time getting off the bench."

Clemsen's White Voted Colleges' 'Back Of Week'

By The Associated Press

For his brilliant field generalship, running and passing in guiding Clemson to two touchdowns in the last quarter and victory over Vanderbilt, Harvey White was voted the Back of the Week today.

The 6-2, 200-pound junior quarterback from Greenwood, S. C., won the weekly Associated Press laurels over such outstanding backs as Pete Dawkins of Army, Charlie Milstead of Texas Aggies, Bob Brumble of Tulsa, Bobby Lackey of Texas, Joe Tranchini of Navy and Wray Carlton of Duke.

Clemson defeated Vanderbilt 12-7 for the undefeated Tigers fourth come-from-behind victory.

Here is what White did while playing 43 minutes:

With Vandy leading 7-0 late in the fourth period, he directed a 76-yard drive in 13 plays on which he ran four times for 28 yards and scored from the one. His pass for the extra points was intercepted.

But after the kickoff and Vanderbilt had been forced to punt, White engineered a 69-yard drive in 15 plays. On this one he ran four times for 14 yards, passed twice for 22 and scored the TD from the three as the clock showed nine seconds remaining. Vandy had the ball for only seven plays, including two punts, in the last quarter.

Army's Pete Dawkins Paces College Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Dawkins, one-half of Army's fearsome backfield duo, is showing the way in major college individual football scoring with 42 points.

The 197-pound halfback from Royal Oak, Mich., who with Bob Anderson gives Army its best one-two punch since Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, crossed the goal line seven times in pacing the Cadets to three straight victories.

Figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau shows Dawkins leading Colorado's Howard Cook by one point. Cook scored 25 of his 41 points against Arizona last Saturday. The 25 equalled the season's one-game high by Kentucky's Calvin Bird against Hawaii.

Bill Patton of California is third with 36 points. Bird, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific and versatile Bill Austin of Rutgers are next in line with 32 each.

Arizona's Dave Hibbert is the top pass catcher. He has been on the receiving end of 22 aerials, the highest four-game total in five years. Hibbert's closest competitor is Ulmo Randall of Virginia, whose 19 receptions is five more than he caught all last season.

Bobby Walden has averaged 48.1 yards on 15 punts to top that department. Second at 46.5 is Don Croker of North Carolina.

The honor of being the hardest working back goes to Austin. The Rutgers ace has handled the ball on an average of 36.3 plays of all types per game. In addition he has scored five touchdowns and two extra points, tossed three touchdown passes and a pair of two-point conversion aerials. That makes him responsible for 54 of Rutgers' 72 points.

Vernon Cole of North Texas State, in one more game than Austin, also has had a hand in scoring 54 points (2 touchdowns, 5 version passes). Responsible for only one point less is Cook who figured in 6 TDs, 2 TD passes, 2 extra points and a field goal.

Vanderbilt's David Ray is tops in punt returns with 4 for 120 yards and a 10-yard edge over John Horrillo of Oregon State. Tom Newell of Drake has run back 11 kickoffs for 219 yards, eight more than Virginia's Randall.

Operation Successful

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—An operation Wednesday to repair torn tendons in the left knee of Michigan football fullback John Herrnstein was pronounced successful by doctors at the University Medical Center. Herrnstein, 20, of Chillicothe, Ohio, will be out for the remainder of the football season but will be able to resume his baseball career next spring, doctors said. He is a pitcher and outfielder.

OSU Coach Fires Back At Big 10 Chief, Eliot

CHICAGO (AP)—Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, found himself in a cross fire today between Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson and Illinois Coach Ray Eliot. But Woody stood his ground and fired back.

Wilson rebuked Hayes for saying earlier this week that collegiate defenses "are getting away with a lot of dirty football" while game officials are "officiating the offense right out of existence."

Wilson said in a statement:

"I can assume that he (Hayes) has generalized because I saw his Illinois game of last Saturday and I observed nothing in that game which I could say supported his allegations.

"He has done a disservice to college football by his broad charges which leave the public with an impression that college football is dirty, for this is not a fact."

In Columbus, Hayes shot back: "Let them prove me wrong. If they want me to turn my films over to an unprejudiced body I'll be glad to do it."

He referred to movies of nearly 20 games played this season. Hayes said he had analyzed them and concluded the defense is getting away with dirty tactics.

Wilson also said Hayes "knows full well there are better channels than public discussion for disposing of any questions he may wish to raise regarding officiating or player conduct (and) he also knows full well that we do not condone dirty play as having a place in college . . . We do not permit our officials to tolerate it."

Hayes had made his remarks at a Columbus press luncheon.

Wilson said he had postponed commenting until Hayes put his charges in writing. But Wilson added he never received a letter and "I therefore have to go on what he said to the press."

Hayes countered: "I said I had communicatd with him (Wilson) and I did. I talked with him by phone last Saturday night."

Eliot, whose Illini were defeated 19-13 by the defending champion Buckeyes in Champaign, Ill., Saturday, was incensed by a published report that Hayes complained too much piling on was permitted in the game.

"I'm surprised and shocked to read of the insinuation that Illinois plays anything but a clean and fine game," he said. "Anyone who has the audacity or temerity to infer that Illinois players played anything but clean football throughout the game must be a man who is out of his mind or likes to hear himself talk.

"There are enough people already running down college football. Hayes' statements left a bad taste in the mouths of Illinois players and coaches. The last thing we want is a smear campaign. We get sick and tired of hearing the same old rantings and ravings of Woody Hayes."

Horses carrying the Number 3 saddlecloth have won four of the five runnings of the world's richest race, The Garden State.

Changes Keep Coaches Busy

By The Associated Press

Don't begrudge the college football coach his daily bread. He is earning it from week to week trying to keep abreast of the changing offenses with a suitable defense. And equally important, trying to keep his own attack working.

This is a problem that bothers many coaches to the extent that some have to prepare for a different type attack each week. This entails:

1. Setting up and teaching a different type defense than the one learned the previous week.

2. Tutoring the scrubs on the opposition's plays so they can present reasonable facsimiles against the varsity.

3. Using the combination of the first two in scrimmages until the defense knows its job.

Since the defensive personnel are also the offense in this primarily one platoon era, where do they get time to polish their attack? That is the problem.

It is one facing Wake Forest Coach Paul Amen today. The Beacons play Villanova Saturday and must face a T formation which makes extensive use of flankers, then will suddenly shift into an "I" formation.

Last week, Amen had to tutor his lads against North Carolina State's multiple offense. The Deacons won 13-7. The week before his boys had their initial shot at the "I" formation, losing to Florida State 27-24. Prior to that, they beat two split-T teams, Maryland 34-0 and Virginia Tech 13-6.

Pitt meets West Virginia in a big rivalry game and the Panthers Coach Johnny Michelosen faces his fourth offense in five games. The Mountaineers have a split-T as their basic attack, from which they have run up 122 points in four games.

Pitt, specializing more in defense then offense this season, succumbed to Michigan State's multiple offense (22-8) last week, but conquered Minnesota's split-T 13-7, Holy Cross' T-variations 17-0 and UCLA's single wing, with balanced and unbalanced lines, 27-6.

Notre Dame's Terry Brennan bemoaned the fact last week that his boys have not faced the same type offense in any of their first three games. Army's "bazooka" and "lonesome end" did them in 14-2, and this week they must face Duke's split-T and "lonesome end" (and world champion sprinter) Dave Sime.

BETTER THINGS FOR BETTER LIVING . . . THROUGH CHEMISTRY

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Gleason Goes Back To Work

The question that's pursued Jackie Gleason since he decided to go back to work for a living is what he thought of the reviews accorded his return to TV, and his answer hasn't varied all week.

Marie Torre

"A half hour after the show," Gleason tells all, "I wrote on a paper napkin exactly what I figured the critics would say. I turned out to be absolutely right." The critical consensus was that Gleason's comedy material wasn't commensurate with his enormous talent, and if he had the foresight to recognize this major flaw in advance of the published reviews, one wonders why things failed to turn out differently.

ODDLY ENOUGH, if Gleason had to do it over again, he says he wouldn't have tailored the show to the favor of the TV savants.

"In the final analysis," Gleason said, "you have to make up your mind whether you want to cater to the critics or to the viewers, although there's no doubt that success has a great deal to do with what the critics say.

"I have no beef with the reviewers. They wrote what was their opinion, and they're entitled to it. But I've also got an opinion about playing to an audience."

The implication here, we gathered, is that there's a wide gap between the entertainment standards of professional and lay viewers.

-:-

"THEY'RE MILES apart," he said. "The public looks to be entertained. The critic looks to see what's wrong.

"If I remember correctly, the critics didn't write love notes about my 'Honeymooners' in the beginning. Now they all rave about the 'Honeymooners.'

"Now they don't have to look at it from a critical standpoint. All they have to do is sit back and enjoy it, and apparently they do."

There are some, of course, who will interpret his candid thoughts as bonnyclabber, but to do so would be an injustice. Gleason is not so blind as to think that his initial offering was a praiseworthy effort, and he readily admits that the final performance failed to measure up to the potential of the original conception. Such is the delicate nature of comedy.

The important thing is that a dedicated clown is trying to capture the essence of humor during these Western-weary days on TV. He may not always succeed in convulsing us, but he has the stubborn determination to face up to the challenge, and let's all be grateful for that!!

-:-

ARBITRON, which provides an instant rating, reports that NBC made a clean sweep Wednesday night between 6:45 (with Chet Huntley and the news) and 10:30 ("This Is Your Life"). The high-spot was Milton Berle's return (31.2) . . . 'twenty-five Texans arrive at Idlewild next Wednesday to see the Pat Boone, Patti Page, and Peter Lind Hayes program for the first TV Showplane excursion on record. The touring party also will visit the United Nations and the Stork Club.

-:-

LOU COSTELLO, trying to go it alone since Bud Abbott retired, turns to straight drama in next Wednesday's "Wagon Train" episode, in which he plays a homeless drifter. . . .

Actor George Montgomery, who's lived in the shadow of his wife (Dinah Shore) during the last six years, tries for TV sweepstakes in a new Western (yes, another one) called "Cimarron City." It's Montgomery's fond hope that before the season ends, we'll be calling Dinah "George Montgomery's wife." . . .

Ernie Kovacs will dance (without stogie, please?) on next Monday's "Arthur Murray Party."

Everyone Co-Operates But Rats In Rat Hunt

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — It was rat killing day in Oklahoma City Wednesday. Shotgun-armed police and firemen with flame throwers waded into a weedy area in the northwest sector.

Police Chief Roy Bergman personally directed the big hunt and housewives who had turned their antirat wrath on City Hall watched from the sidelines.

After an hour of hunting, a tiny cotton rat poked his nose from the burning debris and was pulverized by shotgun blasts. Only four others were found by the hunters, who had expected some 600.

Bergman said philosophically: "Everyone co-operated but the rats."

Accused Slayer Slated To Retake Witness Stand

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Lewis B. Niday, on trial for first-degree murder, will retake the witness stand today.

Niday took the stand late Wednesday afternoon and told a common pleas jury of seven men and five women that he quit school before the eighth grade because he was laughed at for being slow to learn.

It is the defense's contention that Niday, while not denying that he shot and killed Mrs. Florence Cowdery and her companion, George Robinson, did not have sufficient intelligence to deliberately plot their deaths. His counsel has referred to Niday as a moron.

Niday is charged with shooting Mrs. Cosdery and Robinson as the pair left a Marietta tavern last Aug. 23. He is on trial now only for Mrs. Cowdery's death.

The slain woman's husband, Riley Cowdery, about 40, testified that Niday lived with him and his wife occasionally in the weeks preceding the killing.

The state also has introduced into evidence what it contends are love letters Niday wrote to Mrs. Cowdery when Niday was in Florida.

Bids, Fees Okayed

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of Kent State University Wednesday approved bids and fees of $3,100,000 for construction by July, 1960, of a music and speech center. The building will include an auditorium and a recital hall.

Rules On Bonds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe in an opinion to Lorain County prosecutor Paul J. Mikus has ruled that county commissioners may issue bonds in excess of $20,000 for the purpose of acquiring office equipment without submitting the matter to a vote of the people.

Lincoln Group Donates $200

Fund To Aid Child Counseling Center

The Lincoln Home and School Association Tuesday night voted to donate $200 to the Child Counseling Center.

Dr. Myer Alpern spoke on the work of the center.

The group also voted $20 for each homeroom to supplement class work and needs. A $10 donation was made to the Federation of Parent - Teacher Associations.

Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti spoke on the city income tax. The Rev. James G. Gardner of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church conducted devotions. Robert Goodman, president, announced he plans to name a committee to consider affiliation with the Ohio and National PTA groups.

A report on the PTA Federation was given by Mrs. Marvin Kinsey and Don Baxter.

Milton Watson, principal, introduced teachers. A parent visitation followed. Refreshments were served 150 by the teachers.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11.

Gas Flows Freely

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Someone opened a gasoline storage tank spigot, apparently to help himself to a car tankful. He neglected to turn off the gas. By the time it was discovered, 20,000 gallons had flowed into ditches.

Lutherans End Convention; To Borrow 8 Million

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Lutheran Church in America wound up its eight-day conference here Wednesday by agreeing to borrow eight million dollars to help finance the church's building program.

The proposal to let the church's board of American Missions borrow the funds to help finance the three-year $24,350,000 program did not go unprotested.

Dr. Clarence C. Stoughton, president of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, called it "a dangerous and tragic move." He said the proposal was "an indictment against us as Christians when we permit a board to borrow money when we should give the money."

But the Rev. Dr. Donald L. Houser of New York, executive secretary of the missions board, said the funds were urgently needed to finance projects which have been postponed for lack of money.

The convention also voted to hold its next biennial meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 13-20, 1960.

Village Funds Hit $9,87,952

Subdivisions Spent $968,822 For 1857

Columbiana County's nine villages had total receipts of $987,952 and expenditures of $968,822 in 1957, according to reports filed with State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The revenue from the villages included $107,632 from property taxes; $2,488 from cigarette licenses; $139,632 from waterworks; $207,210 from electric plants; $24,448 from cemeteries; $57,277 from sewers; $42,746 from auto licenses; $46,205 from gasoline taxes; $28,378 from local government funds; $57,430 from bond issues and loans, and $275,059 from other sources.

Expenditures included $52,517 for general government purposes; $79,214 for police and fire protection; $9,201 for sanitation; $15,461 for streets; $29,452 for recreation; $139,114 for waterworks; $169,821 for electric plants; $28,023 for cemeteries; $37,987 for sewers; $73,967 for bonds and notes paid, and $198,059 for other purposes.

Rhodes said he plans to issue this year a report on the fiscal statistics of all villages and township, because of the growing importance of such governments in the local picture in the state.

Similar reports have been issued by the office in the past 40 years on county and city governmental operations, but there has been no overall information on villages and townships.

Keep In Trim

Dress Sizes Don't Always Run True

The most exciting part of banishing excess poundage is to be able to slip into a smaller dress size. Slimming down to a smaller, younger size is a special triumph, a reward for dieting.

Ida Jean Kain

It is well to know, however, that dress sizes don't always run true to form. Many variables besides height and weight determine dress size — width of shoulders, waist measurement, and, significantly, "where" the weight is carried.

In yesterday's story, the happy reducer can now slip into size 14, even though she weighs close to 150 pounds. She wrote, "I am wearing size 14 as I write this letter—and there is room to spare at the waist."

—:—

FROM PAST experience, this size 14 story will bring a storm of protest, and with good reason. The fact is, many of you who are the same weight and height as our model wear size 16. You will be convinced that somebody is stretching the truth.

Let's solve the mystery. Chances are, this size 14 was from the Better Dress Department, and we all know that better dresses have a bit more "goods." But there is more to it.

Our model at 5 feet 4 weighing close to 150 pounds is able to wear size 14 in certain styles only, those with a full skirt. An important clue is this: her waist is comparatively small, for she notes that even in size 14 "there is room to spare at the waist."

"Obviously her shoulders fit into a 14 or she could not wear the size regardless of her weight. A full skirt allows the needed latitude for extra poundage.

Shoulders and bust are the gauge of structure and the basis of dress size. In each dress size, there is usually an ample leeway through the bust measurement — three, four or more inches. In styles where the waist is fitted, there is relatively little leeway through the middle measurement.

In short, it's the middle spread that calls for a larger dress size. As pounds creep on, the average figure thickens more through the waist and abdomen than through the hips. And that is where the dress pinches.

IDEAL measurement (body measurements) for size 14 are as follows: bust 35½, waist 27, hips 38, abdominal spread 34½, thigh maximum (largest area) 22, upper arm 10⅞.

If you have shapely proportions and your weight is normal for your structure, do not worry a whit about what dress size you require. Your shoulders may call for a larger size than that worn by another woman your height who weighs more but has a smaller frame.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated leaflet entitled, "Take Your Measure" and "Ideal Weight Chart For Women." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

After Ike, Dulles Remarks

Debate On Foreign Policy To Continue, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—What's a bewildered Democratic politician to do?

Secretary of State Dulles says it's all right for administration opponents to debate the "basic problems" of foreign policy. But he finds it highly undesirable for them to talk in the campaign about "current aspects" of that policy.

President Eisenhower says the "basic parts" of U.S. foreign policy have been standing on their own feet for a long time. But he does not decry "intelligent questioning and criticism" of the tough daily decisions needed to carry out that policy.

Faced with this seeming contradiction, Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla) said today Democrats will continue to discuss "matters of such vital importance to the nation that decisions on them cannot be left to two men alone—Eisenhower and Dulles."

From the other side of the political fence, Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky) said in a separate interivew there is room for campaign debate on international affairs "only if the discussion is constructive and it is for the purpose of keeping the electorate informed."

In San Francisco, Vice President Nixon told a news conference responsible Republicans must answer Democratic criticisms, even if the attacks appear ridiculous. Otherwise, he said, the Republican party will go down to defeat.

He said Eisenhower's stand is a proper one for a president, but "those of us who have the responsibility for carrying the weight of the campaign" should speak up in defense of the administration.

At the time Eisenhower was telling his news conference Wednesday that he deplores injection of foreign policy into the campaign, the Republican National Committee had in the mails a new blast against Democrats.

The GOP committee said that Dean Acheson, former secretary of state, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler and Senators Wayne Morse (D-Ore), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) and Smathers "have been preaching appeasement, retreat and surrender over the matter of Quemoy and Matsu."

"They want to substitute the policy which led to Korea for the firm policy of this administration which has brought a cease-fire to the Formosa Strait, with honor retained," the GOP committee said.

Eisenhower did not reply directly to a question as to whether he thought it fair to use the term appeasement for those who opposed his Quemoy policies.

Instead, he said he had spoken out against appeasement as others had years ago. He added that "when you give way to force and readjust yourself and go back through force, it can't be anything else but appeasement."

Smathers, who heads the Democratic Senatoral Capaign Committee, said he would not describe as appeasers those who discuss policy moves that may mean the difference between peace and war.

"I am strongly in favor of a bipartisan foreign policy program but this administration has not seen fit to consult with Democratic leaders before making its decisions," Smathers said.

Ohio Valley Held As Force To Block Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Valley was described today as a potent and effective force in the nation's efforts to counteract the Soviet Block's campaign to widen its economic foothold in this hemisphere.

Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley, division engineer of the U. S. Army Engineer Ohio River Division, gave it that label in a speech prepared for the 63rd annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn.

He said the valley's force against Russia is especially effective among Latin American countries.

"Ohio Valley industries already draw heavily upon imports from Latin America and elsewhere," Gen. Lapsley said. "Right here in Cincinnati we received barge loads of crude asphalt for processing into driveways and highways.

"Barge loads of alumina, derived from Caribbean bauxite, have been a recent addition . . . to the list of river cargoes. South American oil is no stranger to the Ohio. Both iron and manganese ores from Turkey, Africa and South America go into our steel production.

"Cincinnati is within 3,000 water miles from a vast area of South and Central America. Millions of people in that part of the world form a major market for goods such as are produced in this valley. Russia and her satellites are well aware of this market. They are making considerable effort to gain, and improve, an economic foothold in this area."

The general said the Ohio Valley in doing all right in certain parts of Latin America, especially in Venezuela.

Pittsburgh mills send barge loads of steel pipe and steel rails for South America oil fields and railroads by way of the Ohio River, Gen. Lapsley said.

NEW CUMBERLAND—Hancock County petit jurors have been excused until Nov. 17, the sheriff's office reported today.

O'Neill Lashes At Labor Bosses And Gambling

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill struck out at labor bosses and organized gambling in two speeches Wednesday night. He also praised his Republican administration's highway building program and predicted an end to the recession in Ohio.

"For two years," he told a gathering of 450 persons at suburban Garfield Heights, "we have been trying to give Ohio the kind of roads it needs—roads that are safer, faster and cheaper to travel than has been the case in the past."

He mentioned several major projects under construction in Cuyahoga County as examples of his administration's striving for progress.

In a brief reference to the recession in Ohio, he commented:

"We are going to see two of the most prosperous years in the history of America—1959 and 1960."

At Lorain, he told a group of 500 persons at the Polish-American Citizen's Club:

"The labor bosses in Ohio have become frantic in their desperation over the rising tide of sentiment in favor of the right-to-work amendment.

"In order to whip their members into line and compel them to vote against right-to-work," he charged, "they are now spreading the falsehood that they, the bosses, will be able to find out how union members vote Nov. 4. And, therefore, the bosses imply they will be able to punish union members who do not vote as the bosses order."

Of an alleged police link with organized gambling in Lorain, O'Neill said:

"The officials in charge should give an explanation to the people."

The historic term "Thespians" for actors comes from Thespis, known as the father of Greek tragic drama.

Firemen Get Foam Device

Equipment To Fight Volatile Liquid Fires

New equipment for fighting gasoline, oil and chemical fires has been delivered to the fire department, Chief Charles Bryan announced today.

Known as a "foam inductor," the device introduces a chemical into the water flowing through the hose to help smother stubborn fires. It has a 2½-inch intake and a 1½-inch outlet. With the device, the department received 7 gallons of the chemical that produces the foam.

The equipment will produce the foam or so-called "wet water," a combination of water and chemical. The device cost about $280, including the chemical. The chief said he hopes the city also will purchase a foam inductor that can be used on 2½-inch lines. It would cost about $235.

"This is something the department has needed for 20 years," the chief commented. The purchase was made possible when Council appropriated the funds Oct. 6 out of income tax revenue—adopting a series of suggestions for new purchases proposed by the administration.

The need for such equipment was shown in April when fire broke out in the chemicals stored on the second floor of the water department filtration plant in Klondyke. In his recommendation to Council, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti said the city must be prepared to fight gasoline and oil fires because of the large number of big tanker trucks that move through the city on Route 30.

Taylor, former U.S. and U.N. commander in Korea, arrived today for a four-day visit to troop installations here.

Enrollments Up In Colleges 6th Straight Year

CINCINNATI (AP)—College enrollment has increased this fall for the sixth consecutive year, it was reported today by Dr. Raymond Walters, president emeritus of the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Walters, who annually makes a survey of enrollment trends at more than 600 colleges, said early estimates show approximately 1,800,000 full time students in the nation's colleges this year.

Dr. Walters' survey is made for School and Society, an educational journal.

"Early estimates show an all-time record throng of full-time students are crossing the collegiate campus these bright October days," Dr. Walters said.

"In urban institutions, a still undetermined number of adults are using these facilities in evening classes.

"Grand totals of full-time and part-time students in approved universities and four-year colleges will probably exceed 2.5 million, with an additional number in junior colleges and institutes."

"It is a fascinating and significant picture," Dr. Walters continued, "showing the American people are 'sold' on higher education."

The durability running record for men was set by J. Saunders of New York, in 1882, when he ran 127 miles, 275 yards, in 22 hours and 49 minutes.

Late Insects Control Given

Thrips May Spend Winter In Gladiolus

LISBON — Information for control of insects this late in the season is contained in a bulletin received by Floyd Lower, Columbiana County agricultural agent, from D. Lyle Coleman and R. P. Holdsworth, extension entomologists at Ohio State University.

Now is the time to treat cattle for lice, hogs for mange and lice and sheep for ticks before it is too cold.

Spray sows before farrowing as clean sows will not infest baby pigs.

If sheep were not dipped or sprayed after shearing, now is the next best time. Be sure to consult "Ohio Insecticide Recomendations for Livestock Pests" for the latest approved insecticides.

Thrips will winter over on gladiolus corns. Dust them with 5 per cent DDT now, before storing in a cool dry place, or shake a tablespoonful of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder with a few pounds of corns in a paper sack. It will eliminate much serious infestation next year.

Mothers will get the childrens' winter clothes out soon and see damage from moths—both clothes moth and black carpet beetle. The time to prevent damage is when the clothes are stored but dry-cleaning will kill all stages of moths and halt damage.

There are many scale insects on trees and shrubs. Scraggly appearance and sooty foliage are often indicative, but it is best to send in specimens for positive indentification. For delicious trees, use dormant oil when the leaves are off and evergreens use Malathion during the period between May 15 and June 1.

Houseflies in the home may be annoying until December. They will get sluggish on cold days and can be killed easily with a good commercial aerosol. Look on the label for Pyrethrim or Alethrin content. Higher content gives quicker action.

Mahoning Prosecutor Pushes Sheriff Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Mahoning County Prosecutor Thomas A. Beil has sent to Gov. C. William O'Neill records and sworn statements in his attempt to oust Sheriff Paul J. Langley.

He previously had sent the governor a notice of misconduct naming the sheriff and citing a newspaper story concerning reports that S. Joseph (Sandy) Naples, a convicted gambler, had been spending weekends away from county jail.

O'Neill, here Tuesday in his campaign for re-election, said that if records in the case against the sheriff were sent to him, he would study them and take appropriate action.

Naples, who is serving a six-month sentence, was photographed by the Youngstown Vindicator entering the jail garage from a street on Monday morning, Sept. 29. The newspaper quoted Deputy Sheriff Frank R. Naples, a cousin of Sandy, as saying he had chauffeured Sandy to the latter's home to get a change of underwear. Sheriff Langley gave Deputy Naples an indefinite suspension for showing preferential treatment.

Young people 18 through 30 are invited to this conference each year as an opportunity for leadership development. Ohio generally has the largest delegation with over 100.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Anger Keeps Parent From Winning Argument

No matter how right you are, or how sound your argument with your child, you won't win it if there's anger in it. When anger comes into your voice and eyes, reason flees. If we accepted this self-evident principle and ruled ourselves accordingly, we wouldn't get into word-battles with either our mate or child. We would be so alert as to cease answering back when we felt the slightest signs of anger in ourselves.

By Garry Meyers

—:—

USUALLY, these signs first appear as stirrings inside us, then in the rising pitch of our voice. We can notice these signs in ourselves before anybody else.

I have had so many letters from heart-broken parents, telling of their quarrels with their teen-age children.

Naturally, they dwell on the ugly things a youth will say to them and ugly angry ways he acts toward them.

However, the parent rarely reports his or her own angry looks, words and tones during the quarrel. Indeed, the parents hardly ever think about this side of the problem.

I'm not saying the parents are not usually right in what they expect of the son or daughter. I'm merely saying that to be right is not enough. The child must be convinced of this rightness and he won't be convinced by angry words.

—:—

PERHAPS THE foremost reason for family quarrels is that the parents have failed to train the youth to respect "No" as final. Either they lacked the courage to say "No" when they should have or they always felt it necessary to explain their reason for every command or decision.

(My bulletin, "How To Control Your Temper," and a copy of my "Prayer For Parents" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

English, president, introduced Thomas Dixon, superintendent of Westgate, and Miss McGregor. Wilbur Shaffer gave the invocation.

Chester Council Meets

Fairview Rd. Repairs To Continue

Continuation of temporary repairs to Fairview Rd. was informally authorized by Chester Council at a meeting Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Councilman Charles Kology, chairman of the street committee, reported on the repair project now under way by city workers.

Councilman James Waggle reported he heard questions why the patching was started at the upper part of the road rather than the lower section where the Manufacturer's Light & Heat Co. had excavated to install a main. The utility gave the city $1,200 to restore the road surface.

—:—

KOLOGY INDICATED that section would be patched. He and Mayor Burton Ward said the present objective is to place the roadway in condition for the winter, then resurface under the summer street program next year.

It was estimated about half of the $1,200 grant has been spent so far for patching material, slag and labor.

Mayor Ward reported he conferred last week with O. E. Trout of the State Road Commission at Moundsville, who said the commission does not have any immediate plans for improving Fairview Rd.

Kology said most residents along the road understand the present work is only temporary, and a permanent improvement will be scheduled for next year.

—:—

KOLOGY ADDED some barricades and warning lights at the project have been moved off the road at night. He said heavy trucks have been using the road to avoid weight checks.

Kology reported through trucks have been using Virginia Ave. instead of the marked route, and suggested signs be posted to prohibit heavy trucks on Virginia Ave.

Councilman John Abrams suggested property owners on Virginia Ave., 3rd and 5th Sts. who owe $25 payments for their share of the recent street improvement be notified to pay at the City Hall as soon as possible. City Clerk Roy Cashdollar said notices will be sent.

Council took under study a proposed ordinance requiring permits for excavation work on city streets by contractors or utilities, along with possible fees or money guarantees to restore the surface. Also taken under study was a proposed ordinance bringing the city regulations concerning sale of beer up-to-date with the state code.

ABRAMS, CHAIRMAN of the water committee, said a 2-inch line has been laid to the new community building at City Park and the city reservoir was cleaned Saturday.

Abrams also reported on plans by U. S. Engineers to provide a retaining wall for protection of the water works pump station when the Ohio River level is raised after completion of the new superdam at Stratton.

Abrams said the engineers have proposed a wall around the well and reinforcing the pump station foundation. If the plans approved, the project would be performed by a contractor to be paid by the government.

Belford Lynch requested a street light for the 1st St. hill, pointing out young people and residents have to travel the hill in dark at night. He said unidentified persons have been loitering at night in a vacant home on the hill.

KOLOGY suggested police be called whenever anyone is seen at the house and said he will notify the owners the structure would be boarded. He explained the costs of installing a street light where poles are not available.

Mayor Ward reported on a bid from an East Liverpool auto agency for a new police cruiser. The mayor said the firm offered only $400 trade - in on the present 1956 cruiser, and Council authorized him to obtain bids from other agencies.

Alvin Fineman screened slides of the work done at the City Park since 1957 and what is planned at the park. Fineman pointed out the need for "volunteer and financial assistance" in the park work.

—:—

THE REV. WILLIAM Claghorn of the First Presbyterian Church gave prayer.

Water and sewer committees will meet with the city Sanitary Board tonight to study preliminary plans for the city's proposed sewage disposal system.

Court Aide Lists Case Processing After Criticism

LISBON — In the 21 days of the September term of Common Pleas Court, a total of 64 cases have been processed, Norman Ward, assignment commissioner, reported today.

Ward said the court docket at the start of the current term included 147 cases, including 124 jury trials and 16 criminal cases.

Since the term began, 64 cases have been heard, including 5 jury trials along with 10 criminal cases of which 5 were also jury trials.

The balance of the docket now stands at 83 court cases, 119 jury cases and 6 criminal indictments plus 7 burglary indictments pending against 3 East Liverpool officers and a special officer, if they are not dismissed, Ward said.

Ward, apparently in answer to Democratic criticism of court operations, said cases pending in the docket are not a backlog unless they are placed on the active list. Some cases have been inactive for years, and must be placed on the active list before they can be assigned or dismissed, he explained.

Music Program Is PTA Highlight

A musical program under the direction of Vincent Maola, music instructor, highlighted the initial meeting of the term for Horace Mann Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night.

Amos Hamilton and Jack Babb opened the program with a clarinet duet. Fred Schell played a trumpet solo. A quartet of sixth graders, Hamilton, Rosemary Morris, Billy Blankenship and Babb, played several clarinet selections.

Paul Cunningham, president, introduced officers. The Rev. Glenn Brunstetter conducted devotions.

A $100 donation was made to the Child Counseling Center. The group also donated $10 to the PTA Federation and $20 to each homeroom for class activities and supplies.

Teachers were introduced. The "Blue Boy" banner was won by the sixth grade. Richard Johnston is teacher. Fifth grade homeroom mothers were hostesses.

A toy party will be held at the next meeting Nov. 11.

University Teams Give Debate At High School

The first assembly of the year was held today at East Liverpool High School when a debate was presented under the auspices of the University of Pittsburgh.

Pitt and the University of Minnesota representatives debated the question, "Should the United States Adopt the Essential Features of Russian Education." Two speakers represented each school.

The annual magazine sale assembly will be held Wednesday. Don Saunders, a representative of the Crowell Publishing Co., will explain the program and the prizes.

The goal is $6,000. Students last year raised $5,454.41, about 10 per cent higher than the $5,000 goal.

Heads Of Parties Baffled

New Jersey's U.S. Senate Race No 'Box Office Hit'

By JOHN KOLESAR

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's U.S. Senate candidates look as though they were picked by a Hollywood casting director. But the campaign has been no hit at the box office.

The whole thing has party heads on both sides baffled. It figures to be a very close election. But no crowds, no heat and not much voter interest have shown so far.

Running for the Republicans is U.S. Rep. Robert W. Kean, 65-year-old veteran congressman and millionaire investment banker with a U.S. Senate tradition in his family. His gray hair, almost white mustache and dignified carriage conform to one of the popular ideas of what a senator looks like.

Opposing Kean is Harrison A. Williams Jr., 38 - year - old lawyer and former congressman. Dark-haired and boyish-looking, Williams personifies the young, liberal Democratic candidate.

They are battling for the seat being vacated by Sen. H. Alexander Smith, 78-year-old Republican who is retiring.

Kean's 20-year record in Congress has been the main battleground. He backs the Eisenhower foreign policy, favors economy in government and speaks often with pride about Social Security law amendments he has sponsored.

Williams, who often backed Eisenhower's foreign policy when he was in Congress from 1954 to 1957, is more critical nowadays. But he charges that there is a marked isolationist trend in Kean's record. He says much of Kean's work on the Social Security law was technical and that many times Kean voted against the basic ideas involved.

A large unspoken part of Williams' campaign is the Sherman Adams issue. Kean admits the Adams case may cost him votes, even though he was one of the first Republicans to call for Adams' resignation as President Eisenhower's top aide, after Adams was shown to have accepted favors from a friend who was in some difficulties with the government.

Both men have concentrated on personal campaigns, with little reliance on television and radio. While their schedules are basically similar, Williams relies more on rallies at union halls and fewer teas and coffee hours than Kean.

Both men travel around the state in automobile caravans led by sound trucks (Kean's unaccountably features a recording of "Happy Days Are Here Again," the New Deal theme song).

Both Kean's father and uncle were U.S. senators. His party has won every U.S. Senate election in New Jersey for the past 23 years.

Williams won election to Congress in 1953 in a district that had not elected a Democrat in the 22 years since its creation.

He was defeated for re-election in 1956 by 4,000 votes when Eisenhower piled up an 80,000-vote plurality in the district.

Both sides make standard victory predictions, but neither is overly confident. The 1954 Senate election in New Jersey was decided by 3,000 out of 1,700,000 votes, and polls so far show Kean and Williams exactly even.

$486,237 Released To Buy School Buses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state controlling board has released $486,237 to help purchase 145 school buses for 84 school districts.

The board Wednesday also released $98,200 to buy 544 acres in Ross County for a proposed lake on condition that the wildlife division acquired all the land needed to build a dam and impound the water.

The division of parks received approval of its request for $21,000 for construction of a swimming beach at Loramie State Lake. The lake is midway between St. Marys and Piqua off Ohio 66.
